Rape and Sexual Offences

R v A 2023

A was sentenced following guilty pleas to charges of possession of indecent images of children and breach of a Sexual Harm Prevention Order. This was his second conviction for similar offences in recent years. At the sentencing hearing, the judge agreed with the defence's submissions that the defendant should receive a community penalty as he had not received any targeted intervention as part of his previous sentence as is usual.

R v AN, 2023

Justin successfully argued for the imposition of a comprehensive and targeted community order on the basis that, due to systemic issues, previous interventions had been inadequate, following a conviction for making IIOC and breach of a Sexual Harm Prevention Order.
