

Adam Stachniewski

Second Six Pupil

CALLED 2024

Prior to pursuing a career at the Bar, Adam studied History at the University of Edinburgh, worked in public affairs at WWF, and was a freelance research analyst at the Football Association, PwC, and Bain.

While studying for the GDL and Bar Course Adam worked pro-bono for the Free Representation Unit and Brixton Advice Centre, representing vulnerable clients before the Social Security Tribunal. He also undertook an Amicus internship in New Orleans, assisting with mitigation-focused field interviews and writing an application for executive clemency for a death row inmate.

Adam achieved first-class honours at Edinburgh, distinctions in the GDL and Bar Course, and was twice awarded a Queen Mother Scholarship from Middle Temple.

Adam has lived in India, Canada, and Argentina, and in his free time enjoys wild camping, scuba diving, and karaoke.
